Introduction Artistic Methods to Increase Student Motivation – For Teachers

This course is designed to help educators harness the power of artistic methods to boost student motivation, creativity, and engagement. Through practical, hands-on workshops and reflective sessions, participants will learn how to use music, drama, visual arts, storytelling, and movement as effective tools to inspire learners, foster emotional connection, and create more dynamic, inclusive classrooms.

Course Objectives

- To develop competences in identifying, understanding, and effectively applying artistic and creative teaching methods to boost student motivation, participation, and emotional connection to learning.
- To create a personal action plan for integrating visual arts, drama, music, movement, and storytelling into everyday classroom practices across different subjects and age groups.
- To introduce a reflective process for analyzing classroom dynamics and student profiles in order to select the most impactful artistic strategies for inclusion, engagement, and well-being.
- To increase participants' confidence in using creative, student-centered approaches that foster autonomy, collaboration, and expression, especially among disengaged or less confident learners.
- To promote European collaboration and innovation in education through Erasmus+ networks focused on creativity, emotional intelligence, and learner motivation.
- To understand the psychological, social, and pedagogical impact of incorporating artistic methods into teaching, including their role in enhancing classroom climate, strengthening student-teacher relationships, and supporting holistic development.

Learning Outcomes

- Understand how artistic expression supports motivation and learning.
- Apply music, drama, storytelling, and visual arts in everyday lessons.
- Create engaging and inclusive classroom activities using artistic tools.
- Recognize the emotional and psychological benefits of artistic methods.
- Design interdisciplinary projects that encourage creativity and critical thinking.
- Adapt artistic approaches to various learning needs and age groups.
- Reflect on their own teaching practice and develop a more inspiring learning environment.
