Introduction Visual Arts in School for Teachers

This course offers teachers a hands-on, creative exploration of how visual arts can be integrated into school education across subjects and age groups. Participants will experiment with various artistic techniques and materials, while learning how to foster creativity, critical thinking, and emotional expression through visual arts. The course encourages educators to use art as a powerful educational tool for inclusion, communication, and personal development.

Course Objectives: Visual Arts in School for Teachers

This Erasmus+ course supports teachers in using visual arts to enrich classroom learning. Participants will explore creative techniques like drawing, painting, and collage. The course highlights how art promotes inclusion, emotional expression, and cultural awareness. Teachers will also visit local institutions to see arts education in action. It's a hands-on, practical experience designed to inspire and connect educators from across Europe.
